THE RANGE OF EDUCATIONAL LITERATURE.

FOR generations the three R's were considered sufficient schooling for the ordinary child who was not to be a clerical or lay scholar, and up to our own generation it has been the tradition of the colleges that the classic languages, with the "humanities" and more or less, mostly less, science constituted the proper curriculum. Within the present generation all this has been undergoing a radical and surprising change. There is now almost no subject of knowledge which is not covered in popular education or in the universities, colleges and training schools of various kinds. Our educational scheme has developed into a multiplicity of function and specialization, which to the keen observer marks a surprising transformation. Simultaneously, the tides of immigration have set so strongly that a new problem has come into the field of education, and especially in America a task in education is that of teaching English to foreigners, children or adults, that they may begin an English education.

All this has made, in turn, a remarkable development in educational literature. Educational publishing has become encyclopedic. The advance of science has caused textbooks, which were up to date ten years ago, to be discarded as utterly behind the times. Books for foreigners have become an increasingly important part of the American educational output. At the same time, not only have the classic works of ancient and modern times been brought into the schoolroom or college lecture-room, but even modern romances are edited for school use. Finally, supplementary reading has come to include almost everything that has not been included, if anything has not been included, in the range of text-books proper.

It has been the aim of the Educational List of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY to follow, from year to year, this development of educational literature—a task more and more difficult as the years have added to the harvest of books. In these days it is almost impossible to draw the line between books which are properly educational for school use, and that wide range of old literature, for which we cannot undertake to furnish a bibliography. The Educational List must, therefore, be a practical compromise, as comprehensive as is possible, and yet restrictive in the sense of excluding a good many books which it might fairly be expected to include. We have often been asked to include books on pedagogy, but it has been impracticable to add to this large list titles of books which are for individual rather than for class use. Nor have we been able to follow the process of education into the higher institutions of learning, such as the universities and professional schools. Therefore, for sins of omission as well as commission, we can only enter a general plea of doing the best that we can. In seeking advice, both from publishers and imprint users of the Educational List, the counsel has often been so contradictory as to add to rather than to solve difficulties in the task.

We have particularly urged the publishers this year to exclude books which are superseded by later equivalent books. It is not to the interest of a publisher to put forward in this list or otherwise, books which are practically out of date, especially if he has other works which virtually take their place. Even if he has not, his reputation is hurt by putting forward a book so evidently behind the times as to throw doubt upon his educational publishing otherwise. A publisher in the educational field must be ever on the alert to make sure that his list contains no book that is behind the times, even if he has to wait awhile for a new text-book which will bring the subject and the publisher's reputation up to date.

In the arrangement of the present catalogue, some changes have been made which we trust will be helpful. There has been an endeavor to bring together the various forms of such series as the Otto-Gaspey-Sauer or the Ahn-Henn series of books for instruction in foreign languages, rather than to separate these under the names or catch words adopted by rival publishers. Individual editors are, however, entered usually with a cross-reference to the series. On the other hand, series like the American Science Series, where the reputation of the author emphasizes the quality of the book, condensed entries only are given under series name, and the main entry is given under the name of author. With series of readers it has not been possible to be consistent, but, as a rule, the plan has been adopted of giving the full information under the name of the author or editor, except where the name of the series is distinctly the characteristic thing. Our aim has been to make a list of the utmost practical service to teachers and to the trade, but we must confess that neither uniformity nor consistency has been possible.

THE NEW YORK STATE LIBRARY IN ITS RELATION TO SCHOOLS AND TEACHERS

In an address delivered at the meeting of the State Teachers' Association, Albany, Nov. 27, 1911, and printed in full in New York Libraries for January, Mr. J. I. Wyer, Jr., director of the New York State Library, says:

"It is, of course, understood that, following the destruction of the State Library by fire eight months ago, much of its work is in abeyance and must stay so until the new State Library shall be open to the public in all lines of its work and in its new quarters in the State Education Building. Oct. 1, 1912, has been fixed as a tentative date when this complete resumption of work shall be effected.

"The State Library, as a part of the State Department of Education and meaning to maintain vital relations with all educational endeavor throughout the state, may render an immense service. In New York State, for example, it should mean that a thousand institutions for secondary education, that five hundred registered and accredited libraries, may be in effect branches of the State Library, which stands ready to lend them books not in their own or in local libraries, or to send to any one of them a traveling library composed of books selected, not by the State Library, but by the school or the library desiring such a collection. These fifty or one hundred volumes may bear upon any subject in or outside the course of study, or may provide for cultural or recreative reading wholly unconnected with the curriculum.

"The State Library does not offer to do for you what can be as well or better done by your own school or public library. The Education Department, through inspection and grants of money, is encouraging every school in the state to have its own collection of books, and there are now thousands of schools where these libraries are large enough to be of real service. Besides the school libraries there are between six hundred and seven hundred public and reference libraries all over the state (more than half of them free lending libraries), with over ten million books on their shelves. These books and their attendant librarians are the splendid library resources ready to your hands. Use them first. Whenever they fail you, being inadequate, ignorant or unwilling, turn to the State Library, and we pledge you our best efforts that you shall not turn to us in vain. Whenever you know or even suspect (and we willingly rest under such suspicion) that the State Library can serve you where your local libraries cannot, or that it can add to or improve upon their service, then turn to it. It is the exceptional, the supplemental, service that we offer.

"From what has been said, you will see that there are some library facts so fundamental that every New York teacher should know them exactly and minutely. A few of them are:

"That you can consult the State Library to find out whether certain subscription books urged upon the district by agents are worth what is asked for them.

"How your school may borrow, from the state, books for short times and traveling libraries for long periods.

"What state office is required by law to answer questions about libraries and book selection.

"What books useful for your school work are in your local library.

"What rules govern their use.

"How your pupils may borrow books from any library in their reach.

"When these things are known, you may turn further to the State Library for many other things. It may be one book or ten books loaned for two or four weeks, fifty or a hundred books loaned for six months. It may be our opinion as to the best dictionary, encyclopedia or atlas to buy with $5 or $10 or $30; a list of the best books on nature study, New York history or geography; a list of references on questions for debate; what state publications are of value to schools; what are the best graded lists of children's books; how to arrange and care for a school library. These citations sufficiently indicate the nature and scope of the help which the State Library is ready to give to teachers.

"Apart from the actual use of these privileges, which is very considerable, the fact that such privileges exist and that the State Library is to be so situated as to make them widely available, is a matter of the very first importance to all educational institutions in the state. Beyond this, the availability of this reserve becomes an important factor in the internal economy of each of these institutions. In the building up of its own library, each school in the state saves money and utilizes its expenditures more profitably by reason of what the State Library stands ready to supply. The expensive book, the set of books only rarely in demand or in demand by the occasional person, which the school library is unable to buy for itself or even to obtain at the local library, is now freely on call, and the money which would have to be spent for such works to the neglect of other subjects in local libraries is now available for the building up of a collection to meet the average general demands of the curriculum and the pupils.

"A line of work which the State Library frankly acknowledges that in the past it has been unable to meet completely and with justice, is the demand upon it from secondary schools and small colleges throughout the state for debate material. It hopes in the future to be able to do much more for this work. Demands of this sort from all over the state, centering in the State Library, present many rather difficult problems. If twenty high schools simultaneously debate the same question, it is manifestly impossible for the State Library to supply the same or indeed any good material to each one. The best material on the questions commonly debated is usually found in current periodicals, and because of the greater need for these periodicals at the central library, they cannot be sent away from Albany. In the past the State Library has tried to persuade colleges or high schools to send their debate teams to Albany, where special rooms can be set aside for their use and where material can be got together for them on advance notice. This works well, and the Library will be prepared to do more of this and to do it better than in the past. For those, however, who by reason of distance cannot come to Albany, it is planned to maintain a special debate collection, embracing the principal references on all questions that are prominent for current use in debate work. The Library has thousands of duplicates of volumes and single numbers of periodicals. These will furnish in hundreds of cases the principal references in small compass and in duplicate, which will be held available for lending to schools for use in debate. Then, too, traveling libraries of twenty-five or fifty volumes are always available for this purpose. If a school can make up a season's debating program, send a list of its questions to the State Library in reasonable time, a small fee will entitle it to the best twenty-five or fifty books that we can choose, relating specifically to these topics."

"TREASURE ISLAND" SOLD.

IS CENTER OF HUNDREDS OF STORIES OF SOUTH SEA PIRACY.

ADVICES from Honolulu report the sale of Christmas Island, reputed original of Robert Louis Stevenson's "Treasure Island," and center of a web of hundreds of less pleasing tales current in the South Seas of piracy, black-birding, treasure seeking and wrecking. The island is valuable as a copra producer.

Father Rougier, whose shingle reads, "Real Estate—Islands Bought and Sold," negotiated the transfer from the ownership of the Grieg family to an unnamed buyer.

Christmas Island is north of the equator, 3 degrees west and 18 degrees south of Honolulu.

Scientific American Compiling Department, the Americana Company and Richard S. Teal, of Cranford, who is the chief promoter of the "Encyclopedia Americana."

Charles A. Munn, president of Munn & Co., was the principal witness called Wednesday. Answering a question of Conover English, of counsel for the defence, Mr. Munn said that "the era of good feeling" between the contending concerns ended in the latter part of 1909. "About that time," Mr. Munn said, "we asked them to stop using our name in connection with the 'Americana.' In May, 1911, we gave formal notice that we would begin litigation."

Mr. Munn identified a large number of advertisements printed in the Scientific American throughout a period of years. One advertise-

MUNN & CO.'S INJUNCTION SUIT.

FINAL HEARING IN ACTION TO PROTECT USE OF WORDS "SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN."

DEPOSITIONS from various parts of this country and from Canada were read at the final hearing before Vice-Chancellor Emery, in Newark, N. J., Wednesday, in the suit brought by Munn & Co. to enjoin the use of the words "Scientific American" in connection with the publication of the Encyclopedia Americana.

A number of the deponents asserted that there had been promised to them write-ups in a biographical encyclopedia which was to be issued by the Scientific American Compiling Department, which they said was represented to them as an adjunct to Munn & Co., publishers of the Scientific American.

The defendants named in the action are the ment set forth that the "Americana" was being published "with our full co-operation," under the editorship of Frederick Converse Beach, secretary and treasurer of Munn & Co., and editor of the Scientific American. This advertisement further told that the "Americana" would be found fully equal to the Scientific American "for accuracy and reliability."

KEEP your head cool—your feet warm—your mind busy. Don't worry over trifles. Plan your work ahead, then stick to it—rain or shine. Don't waste sympathy on yourself. If you are a gem, some one will find you. Don't whine. Tell people you are a failure, and they will believe you.—"Pap" Baer's Philosophy.

SMITHSONIAN EXHIBITION OF GRAPHIC ART.

WHAT probably will be the most complete collection of its kind in the world is being prepared at the Smithsonian Institution, under the direction of Paul Brockett, librarian.

It is a history of the graphic arts, beginning with the earliest forms of Chaldean cuneiform and Egyptian papyrus writing, down through the ages of Japanese color work, mediæval illumination, wooden block printing, engraving, lithography, and monotype work, to the most modern forms of depicting ideas on paper.

Hundreds of magnificent specimens of the bookbinder's art of the present and of earlier days are in the collection, which will occupy the entire building formerly used by the Smithsonian until the completion of the National Museum.

POSTAL MATTERS.

SENATE POST OFFICE APPROPRIATION BILL REPORTED.

SENATOR BOURNE reported from the Committee on Post Office and Post Roads, July 23, H. R. 21279, the appropriation bill, substituting for the flat-rate House parcel-post provision the Bourne bill basing charges on zone distances. The Bourne bill, however, has been slightly modified by making the parcels-post rates apply only to fourth-class matter. The appropriation bill strikes out the good-roads feature of the House bill, which is left to a recommended special commission of three Senate and three House members. It further amends the House provisions by providing for the publication of the names of stockholders once a year, when lists of these are required to be filed with local postmasters; by striking out the provision giving postal employees the right to combine in labor unions and the right to petition Congress for redress of their grievances; by providing for the abolishment of the present system of sending second-class mail by fast freight, putting back this class in the regular mail cars; and by proposing a special commission to investigate pneumatic-tube service and further installation. Steel cars for railway mail service, required by the House by 1917, are also required by the Senate, but the bill gives one year of grace, and then requires the railroads to replace 25 per cent. of the wooden cars each year for four years. One of the principal increases in the Senate bill is adding more than $2,500,000 to the pay of the railroads for mail transportation. Senator Gardner attacked the bill immediately on its report, because of its limitation of packages to eleven pounds; for its failure to include the C. O. D. privileges; and for its advantage to railroads, that in taking over the express business the government would be paying higher charges than are now paid by the express companies.

OBITUARY NOTES.

ANDREW LANG.

ANDREW LANG, easily the most versatile man of his time in English literature, died at Ban-chory, Scotland, last Saturday night of heart failure. His was a vigorous and wholesome influence in English letters. His sympathies were broad, his impulses sound, and almost every subject stirred his mind to action. Andrew Lang was born at Selkirk, Scotland, March 31, 1844. He was educated at St. Andrew's University, Edinburgh; then went to Balliol College, Oxford, where he gained classical honors and a fellowship at Merton. He was resident at Oxford when John Ruskin was Slade Professor. Possessed of an assured income, and with background of fame as a classical scholar, he was exempt from the struggle to gain foothold in literary London which hampered the early careers of so many men of letters. His rise to fame was steady, and he made his mark in so many and such varied fields of literature that an American once suggested that the name "Andrew Lang" did not represent one man, but a syndicate of authors. He touched with an equal facility and insight subjects as widely separated as golf and folklore, history and fairy tales, verse and translations of Homer, Balzac, Gautier and Tolstoy. For many years he was editor of Longman's Magazine, and to the hour of his death contributed book reviews and talks of authors to the newspapers, and distinguished himself as journalist by his miscellaneous articles for the Morning Post and Daily News. His most distinguished trait was his unfailing geniality, which never left him, even in the height of controversy. In spite of his vast reading, he was by no means a bookish, indoor man, and cricket, angling and golf were among his favorite recreations. His works are legion, and are even outnumbered by his introductions to the works of others. Among the best known are his fairy tales, beginning with "The Blue Fairy Tale Book," in 1889, and grown people and children have looked yearly for fairy books running the gamut of colors. He did widely different work in the field of anthropology, and his "The Book of Dreams and Ghosts," "The Secret of the Totem," and other weird dissertations gained great popularity. He also collaborated with Rider Haggard. Just a few of his best-known books are: "Ballads and Lyrics of Old France," "Ballads in Blue China," "Helen of Troy," "Custom and Myth," "Rhymes à la Mode," "Books and Bookmen," "Myth, Ritual and Religion," "Grass of Parnassus," "Ballads of Books," "How to Fail in Literature," "Letters on Literature," "Essays in Little," "The Library," "The Making of Religion," "Homeric Hymns," "A History of Scotland from the Roman Occupation," "A History of Mary Stuart," and a host of novels and volumes of fiction and verse. His scholarly and poetic work on Jeanne d'Arc, entitled "The Maid of France," although published in 1908, has not yet come into its own. It is among the finest work done by Andrew Lang.

JOHN ALSOP PAINE, Oriental and classical archaeologist, died at his home in Tarrytown on Wednesday, July 24. He was born at Newark, N. J., January 14, 1840. He was graduated from Hamilton College in 1859, and from Andover Theological Seminary in 1862, and was ordained to the ministry of the Congregational Church in 1867. He was afterward employed by the New York Board of Regents in research work on the flora of the State, and was professor in Robert College, Constantinople, till 1869. Next he was professor at Lake Forest. He was associate editor of the Independent, 1871-1872, and archaeologist for the first expedition of the Palestine Exploration Society, 1872-1874. He was on the staff of the Century Dictionary, and curator of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, 1889-1906. Dr. Paine also conducted the Journal of Christian Philosophy for a time, and he wrote extensively on archaeological and scientific subjects.

BISHOP HENRY WHITE WARREN, perhaps the most distinguished clergyman of the Methodist Episcopal Church, died at his home in Denver, Colorado, of pneumonia, on Tuesday, July 22, at the age of 82. Bishop Warren was born in Williamsburg, Mass., on January 4, 1831. He was ordained in 1855, and held many parishes in Massachusetts and in Philadelphia until he was elected bishop in 1880. He was at one time a member of the Massachusetts Legislature. His duties took him all over the world, and his special recreation was astronomy. Among his best-known books are "Sights and Insights"; "Recreations in Astronomy," a book that attained world-wide popularity. He also was the author of "Among the Forces," "Studies of the Stars," and "The Bible in the World's Education," and contributed many reviews and newspaper articles. From 1896 to 1900 he was editor of The Study.

PERSONAL NOTES.

ON Saturday, the 13th inst., at the close of the Chicago Book Fair, Arthur Caldwell, of the Lamb Publishing Company, was presented with a handsome diamond fob by his brother bookmen as a mark of their esteem and appreciation for the musical entertainment which he has so cheerfully rendered at their annual Outing and Field Day.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

THE two names mentioned for the Nobel prize of this year are Henri Bergson and Gerhard Hauptmann.

OWEN WISTER, novelist and author of "The Virginian," has bought from Colonel Edward Fletcher, of San Diego, Cal., a tract of 3300 acres, between Lakeside and Alpine, near San Diego, Cal., for $5000.

ADMIRERS of Hans Christian Andersen will be surprised to learn that the prince of fairy tale writers had personal traits which were the reverse of lovable. He was intensely proud of his literary achievements, proud to the extent that he would never tolerate the merest shadow of criticism. He himself said: "My soul is never happy save when I am the object of general admiration."

PORTER EMERSON BROWNE, author of "A Fool There Was," "The Spendthrift," etc., last Tuesday saved Miss Gladys Forbush from drowning. She had gone down twice, when Mr. Porter dove overboard, fully clad, and went to her rescue, assisted by William K. Fowler, a New York broker. After she was taken ashore it required an hour's work to resuscitate her. The rescue, which occurred near the Norwalk Country Club, South Norwalk, Conn., was witnessed by hundreds gathered upon the beach.

THE Civil List pensions for the year ended March last, just issued, show that grants have been made of £100 to Frank Thomas Bullen, in consideration of the literary merits of his writings; of £80 to Antoinetta Lady Russell, in consideration of the literary abilities and public services of her husband, the late Sir William Howard Russell; of £70 to Charles Francis Keary, in recognition of the merits of his writings (Mr. Keary, who was formerly on the staff of the British Museum, has published novels and works on history and philosophy and on antiquarian subjects); of £50 to John Arthur Blaikie (who has contributed to most of the leading literary, artistic and musical journals, and has been on the staffs of the Saturday Review and the British Review), in consideration of his literary merits; and of £40 to Miss Alice Shield, in recognition of the merits of her historical writings.

THE "Prince of Poets" in France is Paul Fort, in the view of his brother poets and brother litterateurs. The question has been decided at a solemn election, held in the offices of Gil Blas, the well-known literary paper. Only poets and men of letters had the right to vote. To prevent the intrusion of the unfranchised, each voter's name was read aloud. Painters, actresses, and a Protestant pastor found themselves disqualified. At last the result was known—M. Fort was first with 338 votes, Raoul Ponchon second with 95, and the rest nowhere. Yet the rest included such famous names as Rostand, Mistral, Henri de Regnier, and Jean Richepin. The new "Prince" is a poet of considerable distinction, though hardly of popular appeal. His fashion of printing his verses straight ahead, as if prose, gives at first an impression of Whittmanesque uncouthness. He is the editor of a well-known poetical review, Vers et Prose.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

THE widow of George Frederick Watts has completed a biography of her husband, which will probably be published in the autumn.

THE FREDERICK A. STOKES COMPANY have reprinted from The Book News Monthly for May an illustrated article on "The Significance of Owen Johnson," by R. L. White Perkins.

DR. FREDERIC TABER COOPER is the author of both "Some American Story Tellers" and "Some English Story Tellers; a Book of the Younger Novelists," which Henry Holt & Company announce for fall publication.

BLEAK HOUSE, at Broadstairs, one of Charles Dickens' homes, has at last been sold. The buyer is a doctor, who will occupy it, and who will probably not care to be disturbed by literary pilgrims from America. A bronze bust of Dickens is one of the ornaments of the house.

M. M. BRESLOW, of 20 East 30th Street, New York, has started, in connection with his bookstore, a magazine excerpt bureau, which supplies writers, students, debaters, teachers, lecturers, etc., with magazine articles on any subject. Some 500,000 articles are on file, to meet every conceivable demand.

IN consequence of the regrettable death of Francis Sangorski, the business of F. Sangorski & G. Sutcliffe will be carried on by Mr. Sutcliffe. The firm will be continued under the old name, and it is expected that its reputation for artistic skill and sound workmanship will be fully maintained.

SIMULTANEOUSLY with a statement made through the press from Madrid in the most sensational manner possible, that Infanta Eulalia had applied to the French government for naturalization as a citizen of France, comes the significant announcement that a new book by Eulalia is nearly finished and will soon appear.

E. P. DUTTON & Co. are publishing an unusual work in their English translation of Karl Gjellerup's romance, "The Pilgrim Kamanita." This is a passionate Oriental love story, founded on a Buddhist legend, giving not only a remarkable picture of Eastern life centuries ago, but revealing, incidentally, the beauty of the essential doctrine of Buddhism before it became disfigured by later accretions.

G. W. DILLINGHAM COMPANY announces for September issue "The Talker," a novelization of the popular play, by Arthur Hornblow; "The Brand Blotters," a story of the cattle range, by William M. Raine; and "The Head of the Cammorra," a striking portrayal of the life and doings of the Neapolitan Cammorra (a novel), from the Italian of E. Serao by Baron Bernardo Quaranta di San Severino.

THE Marquis Visconti Venosta has arranged for an Italian translation of "The Life and Times of Cavour," by William R. Thayer, which the Houghton Mifflin Company recently published in this country; and the book will be issued in Italy under official auspices. Senator De Cesari recently pronounced a eulogy on it in the Italian Senate. It is to be doubted whether any other foreign book has ever been issued in Italy under more favorable circumstances.

JOHN BUCHAN, an English author, makes his first important appearance in September with "The Moon Endureth" (Sturgis & Walton Co.), short stories, dealing mainly with the mysterious and supernatural. Contrasting with tales of this type are realistic stories, with settings in the past and the present. A group of them, on their first appearance in The Atlantic Monthly and Blackwood's Magazine, were hailed as works of rare originality and imaginative power.

AN impartial study of the Oregon system of government, and of the benefits and dangers in its use, has been made by Allen H. Eaton, the oldest member, in point of service, though one of the youngest in age, in the Oregon House of Representatives. He has given a brief, interesting study of every case which has come up under the system; he has brought the results of careful study of all the available literature on direct legislation, and given, as well, the fruits of his own political experience. The book will be issued immediately by A. C. McClurg & Co., under the title, "The Oregon System: The Story of Direct Legislation in Oregon."

A CONTROVERSY has lately been proceeding in our French contemporary, La Reliure, with regard to the vexed question whether the edges of books should or should not be cut before the volumes are issued to the public. In the June number, M. A. C. Alibert, a well-known amateur art binder, pleads for the retention of the uncut edge. He thinks that the paper knife is the booklover's friend, and that, although it is true most people buy books for the purpose of reading them, yet most men of letters would have them bound afterwards, for which purpose cut edges would be a disadvantage. In this connection, however, it is well to remember that in France books are commonly issued in paper covers, with uncut and unopened edges, so that the subsequent binding progress is greatly facilitated.

THE August Bookman includes, among its "special articles," "American Authors and British Publishers," by Algernon Tassin; "The Grand Inquisitor of the Russian Soul," by Cleveland Palmer; "The 'Titanic' and the Literary Commentator," by E. B. French; and "Jim' Riley—an Appreciation," by Charles Virgil Tevis. The books reviewed this month include R. R. Bowker's "Copyright," reviewed by George Haven Putnam; F. A. Hedgcock's "David Garrick and His French Friends," by F. C. Bellamy; A. F. Davidson's "Victor Hugo," "Recollections of Guy de Maupassant," and Edmund Gosse's "Two Visits to Denmark." "The Test of Memory, and Some Recent Books," by Frederic Taber Cooper; and "Salt Water Romances, and Some Others," by Paul Gray Herriott, cover reviews of sixteen or seventeen novels.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT'S fall announcements include "The Flowing Road," adventures on the great rivers of South America, by Caspar Whitney; "Our English Cathedrals," by Rev. James Sibree; "The Empress Josephine," by Baron de Meneval; "The Elizabethan Playhouse, and Other Studies," by W. J. Lawrence; "The Advance of Woman"—much more than a suffrage argument—by Mrs. Johnston Christie; "Cheiro's Memoirs," the reminiscences of a society palmist; "An American Glossary," by Richard H. Thornton; "The Dixie Book of Days," by Matthew Page Andrews; an illustrated edition of "Lorna Doone"; "The Lady Doc," by Caroline Lockhart; "A Jewel of the Seas," by Jessie Kaufman; "The Lifeboat and Its Story," by Noll T. Methley; "Evolution in the Past," by Henry R. Knipe; "The New Book of Puzzles," by A. Cyril Pearson; and "Stories From the Old, Old Bible," by L. T. Meade. These books, which by no means include all the autumn publications of the house, are promised for September 5.

PICK-UPS.

AN ASTRONOMER'S WIT.

PROF. ADAMS, of Cambridge University, England, who discovered the planet Neptune, was a distinguished proof that a man may have his head among the clouds and still keep a ready wit for mundane occasions.

At a dinner of the Philosophical Society, one of the company was concluding an after-dinner speech about the activities of the society for the last year. He pointed to the book of proceedings on the table near him, adding:

"But of all the proceedings this year, gentlemen, you will agree with me that one of the best is this [waving his hand at the assembled diners] philosophical proceeding."

THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY

American Educational List, 1912

This List plans to include all textbooks used in American schools and academic institutions (not in universities, professional or technical schools) and books prepared especially for supplementary reading in primary and grammar schools; also classical and foreign texts, annotated for schools, following as far as practicable the plan of the Modern Language Association, and such English texts as are required for college entrance examinations, 1912-15. Entries are under authors or editors; classical texts are entered under editor's name, foreign and English texts under author's name with editor's name in parenthesis. For revised subject classification, and for collective reference to classical authors entered under editors, see the second part of this List, following the main alphabet. The List does not include other English texts (except comprehensive school editions of Shakespeare); works of reference for schools (except dictionaries); nor teachers' aids (except teachers' manual forming part of a textbook series). It is also intended to exclude imported textbooks, except such as are printed with American imprint or sold here in class quantities.

The List omits works out of print or superseded by newer editions, or works obsolete in the sense of being no longer sold in quantities for class introduction, but only in individual copies to schools having the book already in use. For such works see the American Educational List of previous years.

The price given is the "net" or introduction price made by the publisher (with close trade discount only), for which a copy is sent to a teacher or bookseller postpaid. Where an additional mailing charge is made for postage, on single copies, an asterisk (*) precedes the price. Books priced at retail, with regular trade discount, are designated by a dagger (†) in the price column. When there is a blank in price column the publisher failed to give information. A double asterisk (**) designates books forthcoming and yet unpriced. New books issued since List of 1911 are designated by a double dagger (‡) before title.

Be particular in ordering to specify edition, and to give the full name of the book as entered in this List.

Under the heading "BOOKS WANTED" booktrade subscribers, under their own names, are given five nonpareil lines (exclusive of address) free advertisement for specific books out of print in any issue except special numbers, but not exceeding 100 lines a year. If over five lines are sent the excess is at 10 cents a line. Books not out of print, unspecified wants, repeated matter, and all advertisements from nonsubscribers cost 10 cents a line. Objectionable books are excluded so far as they are noted.

In answering, please state edition, condition and price, including postage or express charges. Houses that will deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis should put [Cash] after their firm name. The appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the WEEKLY, does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it endeavors to safeguard its columns by withholding the privilege of advertising should occasion arise, booksellers should take usual precautions in extending credit.

"Books Wanted" must be designated by actual title, not by "any."

Write your wants plainly, on one side of the sheet only. Illegible "wants" are ignored. The WEEKLY is not responsible for errors. Parties with whom there is no account must pay in advance.

Under "BOOKS FOR SALE" or for other small undisplayed advertisements, the charge is 10 cents a nonpareil line. No reduction for repeated matter. Count seven words to the line.

Horace Mann Readers

These readers differ from others in the interest and permanency of their new material, while the mechanics for teaching reading constitutes a system that cannot fail to give quick, definite, and lasting results.

"Daily Lesson Plans" is an exhaustive teacher's manual for the first year's work with The Horace Mann Readers. Every step of each day's lesson is planned and explained. The directions given are so definite, so complete and so practical, that comparatively inexperienced teachers should be able to follow them with excellent results; while in the hands of the experienced teacher it will be of much accommodation in following the progress of the work.

Primer, 30 cents; First Reader, 32 cents; Second Reader, 40 cents; Third Reader, 48 cents; Fourth Reader, 55 cents. Phonogram Cards—Primer Set, 26 cards, 25 cents; First Reader Set, 115 cards, $1.00. Word Cards—Primer Set, 130 cards, $1.25.

Alexander's Spelling Book

All the words are very carefully graded, both as to difficulty in spelling and difficulty in comprehension, a plan which insures the thorough mastery of words of fundamental usefulness at every stage of advancement.

Either Edition, with or without Syllabication:

Complete, 192 pages, Illustrated	25 cents
Part I, for grades 1 to 4	14 cents
Part II, for grades 5 to 8	18 cents

Woodburn and Moran's Elementary American History and Government

American History and Civil Government are correlated. Government is treated in a concrete, practical, and ethical manner—not as matter of laws and constitution simply. The principles of a sound and intelligent citizenship are inculcated. European History is connected with American History. The National rather than the Colonial Period is emphasized. Industrial History is emphasized rather than the history of war. The History of the West is adequately treated. Essentials are emphasized and many miscellaneous and unimportant details are omitted. Remarkably clear, simple, and interesting in style

WHEELER'S GRADED READERS By GAIL CALMERTON and WILLIAM H. WHEELER

WHEELER'S GRADED PRIMER

List Price, 30 Cents

Cloth, 128 pages, 50 engravings, 28 of them full-page

The primer vocabulary is small—only 250 words. New words are introduced gradually and regularly and repeated frequently. The sentences are short and easy. The language is plain, natural, and conversational. The thought is simple, childlike, and pure. The little stories are stories and not mere drill upon words.

WHEELER'S GRADED FIRST READER

List Price, 30 Cents

Cloth, 128 pages, 40 engravings, 20 of them full-page

There is the very closest connection between the Wheeler Primer and the Wheeler First Reader. The plan of the two books is the same. The First Reader begins right where the Primer ends. These books are graded not only from lesson to lesson, but from book to book.

WHEELER'S GRADED SECOND READER

Cloth, 160 pages, 33 engravings, 25 of them full-page

This Second Reader is so carefully graded that it follows the First Reader as easily and naturally as the First Reader follows the Primer. The authors have not forgotten that the Second Reader children need constant drill on familiar words to keep from forgetting them, and that the new words must not be introduced too rapidly.

WHEELER'S GRADED THIRD READER

List Price, 50 Cents

Cloth, 228 pages, 37 engravings, 25 of them full-page

The mission of this Third Reader is to continue the fundamental processes of learning to read and to create and foster a taste for good reading. The stories are longer and more complete and more conversational than those found in other third readers. The aim of the authors has been to make each lesson so simple that the children can read it easily, and so full of interest that the children will let the thought and the feeling of what they read come from their hearts as well as from their lips. This is the secret of good expression.

WHEELER'S GRADED FOURTH READER

List Price, 50 Cents

Cloth, 228 pages, 31 engravings, 26 of them full-page

The length of the selections is a special feature of this book, the selections being long enough to be interesting and to mean something when standing alone. Many of the selections were chosen with a definite purpose of introducing the animate children to the children of fiction. Jackanapes, Cosette, Little Charley, Tom and Maggie Tulliver, Paul and Florence Dombey, and those other boys and girls of story land, should be as familiar to the children as their playmates.

WHEELER'S GRADED FIFTH READER

List Price, 60 Cents

Cloth, 448 pages, 39 engravings, 30 of them full-page

This book was prepared with the conviction that the love for the best books—books which make us clearer in head, larger in heart, and nobler in action—is better—a thousand times better—than all the material wealth the world can give; and with the hope that the pupils will like the charming people of the book world to whom they are here introduced too well to confine their acquaintance within the brief limits necessary to this book.
